WILL RELINQUISH HIS DUTIES

Probably Next Monday, When Assis tant Secretary Meikeljohn Will Have Charge of the War, Department Temporarily-General Alger's Plans for the Future.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20 .- Secretary Alger will relinquish the war portfolio before August I. He called upon President McKinley at the white upon Freshed house this morning shortly before noon and was with him for a few minutes. When he left he appeared to be in excellent spirits. His face was wreathed cellent spirits. His face was wreathed with smiles as he expressed to several newspaper men who a thered about him his appreciation of their good wishes. "You feel relieved of a great burden?" one of them sugrested. "Yes, I do," replied the secretary. "Hereafter I will only have my own burden to carry."

The secretary said that he would relinquish his portfolio as soon as the pending routine matters of the department were cleared up and Assistant Secretary Melkeljohn, to whom the war office is to be turned over, pending the appointment of General Alger's succesor, is ready to assume charge. Asstant Secretary Malkeljohn wired this morning that he would be back on Saturday. "I shall refire before August 1," said the secretary. General Al-ger said he would go back to Michigan and for the present at least devote his attention to his health. The secretary said he knew nothing thout his succes-sor. Asked as to whether he would press his senatorial candidacy, the sec-retary replied: "I cannot tell now." Postmaster General Smith saw the President to-day. As he left the white house he gave an emphatic denial to the suggestion of his possible transfer-al to the war office. "I have troubles enough of my own," he said, smiling. Secretary Alger was an hour late reaching his office this morning. He spent that hour in going over his private correspondence at his residence. There were more than the usual num ber of telegrams. Every member of the secretary's family outside of Washington wired approval of his action of yesterday, and although the secretary himself did not exhibit any of the oth-ers, there is reason to believe they in-cluded messages from some persons very prominent in political life. When Secretary Alger arrived at his office, he entered immediately into conference with Adjutant General Corbin and Major Hopkins. Senator Fairbanks also called. He was taken into the private office, and half an hour was During the morning, Major Pruden assistant private secretary to the Presthe ser wary and the impression pre-valled that he had brought with him the Picsblent's letter of acceptance of Secretary Alger's resignation. This turned out to be an error, and up to noon, at which hour the secretary left the de-partment for his home, the President's latter had not been received.

EXODUS OF MINERS

Down the Yukon River-Everybody Seampering to get Away. SEATTLE, Wash., July 20,-The following advices concerning the exodus of miners down the Yukon river, were brought here by Jack Carr, of this city: At Tanana, Carr observed from 100 to 150 men going down the river in small boats. They were coming from Dawson and other points. The transportation companies were taking down 2,000 to 2,500 men every trip of the steamers. There were estimated to be 1,500 men up the Koyukuk, 1,250 of them would go down the river to Cape Nome at St. Michaels.

In the vicinity of Tanana and Koyukuk men were scampering to get away. Fifty-two steamers were quartered up the Tanana last winte vessels sold as low as $100 each about the Tanana and Koyukuk rivers. Carr reports one outfit that cost $18,000 selling for $1,500 at Rampart City. This was the steamer Sault Ste Marie, longing to a Michigan party. With it went a saw mill and a complete electric light plant. Carr reports a sale of Naptha launch that cost $2,800 in New ork for $350. With this launch went York for $350. one year's provisions for seven men.

Provisions can be bought at Tanana, Koyukuk and Rampart City in job lots for a song. Flour sold at Rampart as low as $1 50 per 100.

Mexicans Kidnapped.

TUCSON, Arizona, July. 20,-A Nogales special to the Star says the grand jury discovered that four Mexicans had been recently kidnapped at Nogales, with the connivance of two officials of Santa Cruz county, and handed over to the Mexican authorities without due process of law. The four men kidnapped were summarily tried and shot by Mexican authorities. An effort to indict District Attorney Harlow on account of the outrage falled. It is allegd that the Mexican kidnappers were hard cases. The means used to dispose of them was with the understanding that the kidnapping and execution should be suppressed, or relations between Americans and Mexicans on both sides of the line, which are now very cordial, might be disturbed if official action was taken by the American au-

"FATAL DEMOCRATIC ALLY."

A Veteran Politician's Plain Talk on Aguinaldo, the Leader of the Zagal

Faction of the Party.

Washington Post: "A Fatal Democratic Ally" is the title of an editorial in the Philadelphia Times or the path, evidently written by Colonel Mcteure, the venerable editor-in-chief of that in-dependent Democratic paper. Colonel McClure is a Democrat of the old school. and, like many others of his kind, is now outside of the fellowship and com-munion of the regular Democratic organization. It would be impossible for such a man to follow the lead of John P. Altgeld, George Fred Williams, and other magnates of the free coinage com-bination. But still he claims to be a Democrat, and there is no doubt that would like to see his party recover its old-time power in the nation if its restoration could be accomplished by adherence to what he regards as Democratic doctrine and policies.

The "fatal Democratic sily" against which the Times warns the party is Aguinaldo, the leader of a Tagal faction in insurrection against the lawful authority of the United States. Colonel McClure was a war Democrat in the time of our great domestic conflict. He was a personal friend of Lincoln, and shared his confidence. In the article under consideration, the fact is recalled that it was the misfortune of the Democrats in our civil war to have the earnest sympathy of the southern insurgents who sought to dismember the republic, and that fatal ally deprived them of power for a quarter of a cen-tury. "Since then," we are told, "a Democratic President has been twice elected, but he was successful solely be-cause he was regarded as vastly more acceptable than his party, and Demo-cratic victory was won by Republican cratic victory was won by Republican votes. From the time that Democracy merited and accepted the sympathy of those who sought to overthrow the republic neither Pennsylvania nor the Union has ever been Democration a square party vote."

Now that the Democrats have witnessed the disappearance of the last vestige of sectional prejudice, as a result of our war with Spain, the Times asserts that "they are turning to invite the sympathy of an equally fatal ally, and one that may doom them to disaster for years to come. The strongest inspiration of Aguinaido's address urging his people to maintain the war against the United States is his public boast that the Democrats of the nation are in sympathy with them and their cause." The Times asserts, as an indisputable fact, that Aguinaido has been encouraged to continue the war and enthuse his followers with the hope of Democratic opposition to expansion and to war with the Filipinos, and the cause." The Times asserts, as an indisputable fact, that Aguinaido has been encouraged to continue the war and enthuse his followers with the hope of Democratic opposition to expansion and to war with the Filipinos, and the Times helieves that "the patriolic people of the country will keenly appreciate the attitude in which Democratic leaders have placed their party before the nation." The article concludes in this vigorous fashion:

"No political party can maintain itself in this country by opposing the prosecution of a war that is already upon us. The patriolic sentiment that strengthens our brave soldlers in the field in their heroism to maintain the field in their heroism to maintain the field in their heroism to maintain the sacrifice of brave soldlers. If the Democratis would hope to make a successful battle in 1800 they must take prompt measures to prevent Aguinaldo from pleading their cause before his murderous barbarlans in the Philippines."

It would have been more just if Colonel McClure had included a number of distinguished Republican statesmen in his censure. There are no Democratic leaders who have been more strongly disinclined to support the government in suppressing Aguinaldo's insurrection than ex-Senator Edmunda. Senator Hoar and ex-Secretary Boutwell. The area of maximum pressure is not in Democratic states, but in Massachusetts. The mistake the Democratis have made has been the attempt to make a party issue out of a question that should not have been raised until the work made has been the attempt to make a party issue out of a question that should not have been raised until the work made has been the attempt to make a party issue out of a question that should not have been raised until the work made has been the attempt to make a party issue out of a question that should not have been raised until the work of good American dizens to stand by their government. The American people, through their concreas, will determine the future relations of the United States with the Philippines, but the

To-day's stock market continued narrow and professional, but there was an improvement in the tone of speculation. In the late market a rather active buying movement and prices rose to the top level of the day gaining a point or over as compared with last night's prices in many cases. There was an early reaction which was encouraged by the violent slump of 22 points in New York Air Brake and an extreme drop of 5 points in Consolidated Gas. There seemed to be an entire absence of commission house buying and London, al-though prices of Americans had been advanced therefore refrained from oper-ating here. The course of the foreign exchange market with reference to the easier money conditions abroad was closly watched and when sight sterling and cables were seen to be yielding it afforded considerable relief from apprehension of gold exports. The fact that the Bank of England refrained from advancing its rate of discount was taken as evidence that the threatened money stringency is about over at that point. Money worked easier in New York but continued above the rates prevailing at interior points. There was some growth of a conviction that money was not to become cheap for a considerable period yet, owing to the needs of the very active trade and the coming movements of the crop. The heavy increases of banking deposits at some of the large financial centres of the country are understood to be due to the great combinations of industries and the resulting readjustments in business methods which have, it is believed, reduced resources at some smaller points in a degree corresponding to the increase at the great centres.
